

Valentine's Day makeover for elders

Localevents

Elderly couples of Faridabad were in for a treat on Valentine's Day at the Golden Estate where beauty expert Ishika Taneja gave a special makeover to the couples. "This is a great experience for us; we have never thought before that we would ever have such a valentine celebration at this age," said a couple at the event. Taneja, executive director ALPS Group said, "After I gave them a makeover, we made them express their love by letting them offer red rose to each other. The was a splendid experience." Col Sandher (retd), chief operating officer of the Golden Estate said, "Life is beautiful when you have your loved one around, love has no age. It was great to see the sparkle in their eyes as they wished their partner and shared their journey of love."

Beauty experts give a makeover to elderly couples on Valentine's Day.

Book on 'the face of news' launched

Leading news anchors and journalists from across the media fraternity gathered at the launch of the book "News Anchors...the Face of the News" at the Manav Rachna International University (MRIU) campus. The book written by Praveen Tiwari and Archana Tiwari, has been brought out in association with the Faculty of Media Studies & Humanities, MRIU. Umesh Upadhyay, president Reliance Jionet and editor ZEE News was the chief guest on the occasion. Among the other dignitaries present were VHP spokesperson Vijay Shankar Tiwari, Srivardhan Trivedi of ABP News, Sayeed Ansari of Aaj Tak, Sanjay Pandey of Zee News, Akash Soni of IBN 7 among others. Speaking on the occasion, Umesh Upadhyay deliberated on the role of technology in the changing face of news anchoring. Dr Maan Singh Parmar stressed upon the importance of clarity and brevity in a news anchors professional career.

Sarvodaya Hospital & Research Centre held an event on the theme of Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao.

Rural body leaders come together for event on girl child

Sarvodaya Hospital & Research Centre, Faridabad took a step forward in its endeavour towards upliftment of girl children and making the country clean and hygienic. The institute strived to mark a pan Faridabad commemoration of these social causes with an event which was attended by the newly-elected sarpanch, zila parishad members and block samiti members of Faridabad and Ballabgarh besides minister of state for social justice and empowerment Krishan Pal Gurjar. The theme of the event was Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao. Students of Sarvodaya Nursing Institute performed cultural dances and nukkad natak on issue of female feticide. The motive of the event was to gather and unite the newly elected sarpanch, block members and zila parishad members for educating and better care of girl children. Gujjar appreciated the institute's support for the cause of girl child and called for more action on Swachh Bharat Abhiyaan, abolition of dowry and empowerment of women. Other guests included RD Sharma, delegates from Red Cross Society, Dr Jyoti Rana from DAV College, NIT Faridabad and Jaya Goyal, ministry of MSME. Sarvodaya Hospital chairman and medical director, Dr Rakesh Gupta, said that the Sarvodaya family supports education of girls and provision of best of the medical care for them.